SUBJECT: CHARTER SCHOOL ENROLLMENT INFORMATION

The purpose of this informative is to share charter school enrollment information based on the Charter School Division's (CSD) review of latest data for newly opened independent charter schools in 2018-2019 (year-to-date following a student count visit by CSD staff on or about the first 20 days of school, per standard procedure) and 2017-2018 Norm Day Enrollment for independent and affiliated charter schools. This follows various questions the CSD has received since the abrupt self-closures of two charter schools before and right after the start of the school year (Celerity Rolas Charter, authorized by the State Board of Education, and PUC International Preparatory Academy, authorized by LAUSD).

All figures noted in the attachment are compared to the respective enrollment projections articulated by schools in their charter petitions for said year of operation or from their maximum enrollment, as applicable. As discussed in greater detail below, in the aggregate, data show that the actual enrollment counts of students fell behind the schools' projections, although a number of individual schools met or slightly exceeded their projections.

2018-2019 YEAR-TO-DATE ENROLLMENT FOR NEW CHARTER SCHOOLS (ATTACHMENT A)

During 2018-2019, 10 new LAUSD-authorized independent charter schools began their first days of instruction. The aggregate enrollment projections from these new schools anticipated that 1,752 total students would be enrolled. Figures based on the CSD's standard student count visit for new schools on or about the first 20 days of instruction show that the actual number of students for 2018-2019 was 693 students (or 1,059 fewer students than the schools projected). School administrators are aware of the visits and sign a summary document with the figures. In summarizing the data for these 10 schools, none of the schools reached their enrollment projections. The school that came closest to meeting its projection, STEM Preparatory Elementary, was lower by 27 percent, or 54 fewer students than projected. Conversely, the school that was furthest from its projection, Matrix for Success Academy, was lower by 92 percent, or 184 fewer students than expected. As part of oversight and following the student count visit, schools provide an update to the CSD regarding its budget plan to adjust for less than anticipated enrollment revenue, if needed.

2017-2018 ENROLLMENT FOR INDEPENDENT CHARTER SCHOOLS
(ATTACHMENT B)

During 2017-2018, there were 224 LAUSD-authorized independent charter schools. The aggregate enrollment projections from the schools anticipated that 128,374 total students would be enrolled. The official Norm Enrollment figures show that the actual number of students for 2017-2018 was 112,492 students (or 15,882 fewer students than the schools projected).

Approximately 34 of the 224 schools either met or exceeded their enrollment targets, while the remaining 190 did not. This trend appears consistent with both small and large charter operators.

In examining charter schools whose LAUSD oversight ended in 2017-2018 (either because the school closed or are overseen by a different authorizer after June 30, 2018), all but one of those schools were also under-enrolled (with the exception of North Valley Military Institute College Preparatory Academy, which exceeded its projected 2017-2018 enrollment by 7.89 percent).

2017-2018 ENROLLMENT FOR AFFILIATED CHARTER SCHOOLS
ATTACHMENT C

During 2017-2018, there were 53 LAUSD-authorized affiliated charter schools. The aggregate enrollment projections from the schools indicated that 44,469 total students would be enrolled. The official Norm Enrollment figures show that the actual number of students for 2017-2018 was 42,171 students (or 2,298 fewer students than the schools projected).

Approximately 15 of the 53 schools either met or exceeded their enrollment targets, while the remaining 38 did not.

The Charter Schools Division continues to monitor enrollment data through annual and ongoing oversight. Should you have any questions, please contact José Cole-Gutiérrez at (213) 241-0399 or via e-mail at jose.cole-gutierrez@lausd.net.
